A musical staff with a treble clef on the left. The staff consists of seven horizontal lines. On each line, there is a circle representing a note. The circles are arranged in four vertical columns, one on each line. The top circle of each column is positioned above the top line of the staff, while the other circles are positioned between the lines. This setup is designed for a student to identify the pitch of each note by writing the corresponding letter name (A, B, C, D, E, F, G) in the spaces between the lines.
